I am a private pilot flying a Piper Cherokee. My family and I are planning a trip to Washington DC in February. I was astounded to learn that there is no easy way for me to visit the Capital. I fail to see any logic in restricting access to the three airports in the D.C. airport. Planes like mine, and me and my family, do not pose a real threat. I was in NYC on 9/11/01--I am as concerned about terrorism as anybody, but the focus on small airplanes is misguided. Please allow the D.C. airports to operate normally.
